

NINE DOLLARS PER MONTH

AND BOARD

Reminiscences of Lewis R. Peckham
1882-1967

EDITED BY HELEN HAASE JOHNSON

PUBLISHED BY THE PRESTON HISTORICAL SOCIETY
PRESTON, CONNECTICUT
1975

PRINTED BY EASTERN PRESS, INC.
NEW HAVEN, CONNECTICUT

CONTENTS

Foreword	5
----------------	---

"Sixty years and more ago . . ."

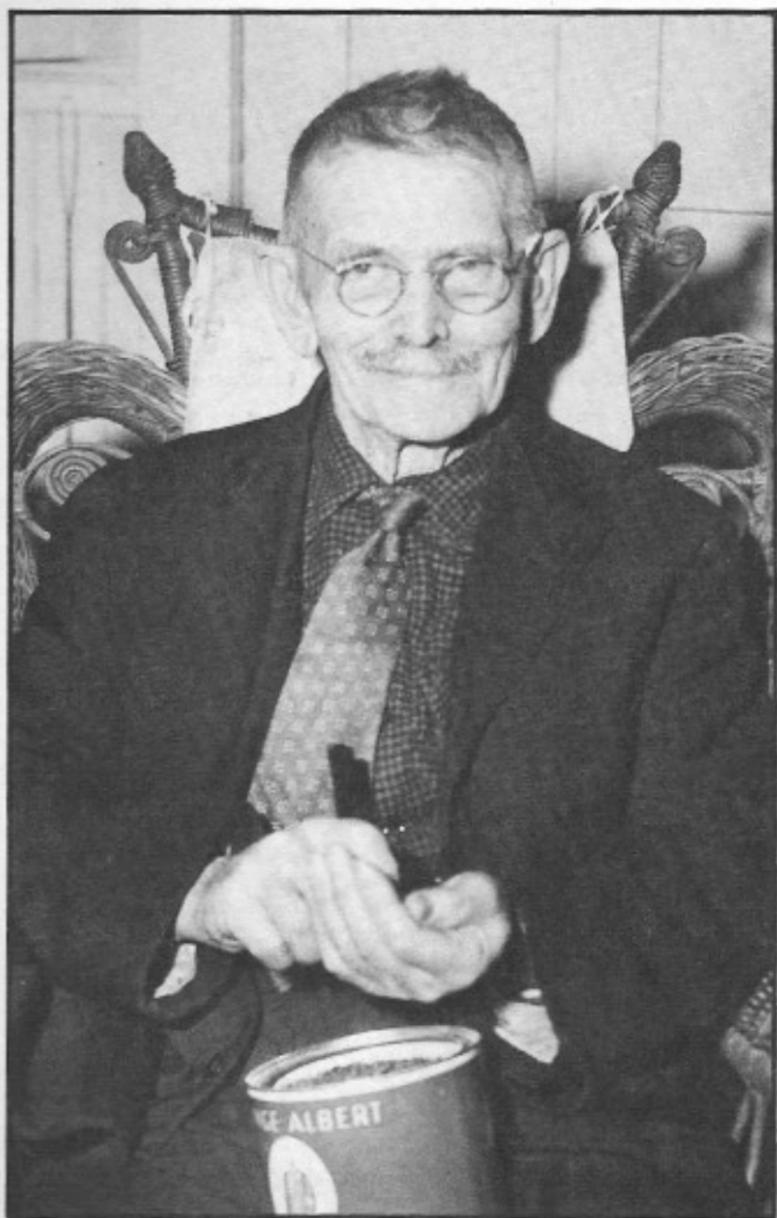

Chapter	Page
I A Boyhood in Corning Town	7
II Father and Mother	16
III Thanksgiving Bonfires in Norwich	24
IV Nine Dollars per Month and Board	28
V Overnight at Lantern Hill	32
VI Reading and Writing and 'Rithmetic	34

"Few people now living remember this episode . . ."

VII The Gold Mine Swindle	40
VIII The Joe Bill Story	42
IX Uncle Ralph's Problem and the Old She-Devil	43

" . . . they made a living, paid their own way, and asked no favors . . ."

X The Old Blacksmith shop	45
XI Of Cranberries and Bricks	50
XII A Costly Business	53
XIII Peddlers: The Independent Businessmen	58
XIV The Irish Washerwomen and the Chinese Laundrymen	62
XV An Account of Our Eating Habits	65
XVI To Market, to Market	72
XVII Watering Troughs	76
XVIII Then and Now	79

Lewis R. Peckham being interviewed in 1962 for an article in the Norwich Bulletin on Indian relics.