As read in the Preston Zoning Regulations Book - Section 16.8.1 through 16.8.14

Also:

Section 16.8.13: Home occupations occasionally become successful to the point that they have an adverse impact on the residential character of the neighborhood and/or the residential use becomes secondary to the home occupation. For this reason, permits shall be renewed annually by the ZEO. All renewal permits shall be submitted by August 1. After inspection, provided conditions have not changed substantially and the occupation is being conducted in a satisfactory manner, the ZEO shall issue said renewal permit. In addition, the ZEO or Planning and Zoning Commission shall have the authority to revoke, suspend or amend the home occupation permit at any time if, in the opinion of the ZEO or Commission, the use is not consistent with the approved application and these regulations.

Home occupations are non-transferable. Effective March 18, 2019.
